

ABOUT STUDY BRIDGE.

STUDY BRIDGE provides language instruction and academic training to high school juniors who want to study in Germany and excel in science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM fields). Participants familiarize themselves with Germany's teaching, learning, and campus culture while enjoying a full immersion experience. Studying in Germany offers first-class education, giving students the perfect foundation for a successful career in their home countries and around the world.

STUDY BRIDGE offers:

- Online language courses up to level B2 by the Goethe-Institut.
- Preparation in STEM subjects
- Preparation for German university admission exams (TestDaF and TestAS)
- Intercultural training
- Counseling and support during the entire duration of the program

The STUDY BRIDGE Program is organized by the Goethe-Institut, the Pädagogischer Austauschdienst (PAD), and the German Academic Partnership Program (GAPP).

The Goethe-Institut is the cultural institute of the Federal Republic of Germany that promotes cultural cooperation and German language learning worldwide.

GAPP is the largest bilateral student exchange program between the US and Germany.

The Pädagogischer Austauschdienst (PAD) is the sole public organisation in Germany working on behalf of the Federal States to promote international exchange and cooperation in the school sector.

The Schools: Partners for the Future (PASCH) initiative creates a global network of more than 1,800 PASCH schools with particular ties to Germany.
